

Cover Letter

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my strong interest in the Webmaster position at Hunter College, as advertised on CUNYFirst. With a solid background in web application development and management plus a proven track record of effective leadership, I am eager to contribute my skills and experience to your esteemed institution.

In my previous role as a Senior App/Web Developer in Baruch I successfully managed a team of developers, defining and overseeing their roles and responsibilities. My experience in a university environment has provided me with a deep understanding of the unique challenges and opportunities found within an academic institution.

My background aligns closely with the responsibilities outlined for the Webmaster position, including designing, developing, and deploying web applications using technologies such as WordPress, Nginx, MySQL and Oracle. I have a demonstrated ability to integrate new features and plugins into a production WordPress environment and connect applications with various Web Services and Web API's, ensuring the seamless functionality of web solutions.

Furthermore, I am adept at prioritizing projects, assigning work, and reviewing outcomes to ensure the delivery of high-quality work by the team and myself. I have a strong background in streamlining development and deployment practices.

What particularly excites me about the opportunity at Hunter College is the chance to play a key role in the long-term plan of growing and maintaining web technologies. I am eager to contribute my expertise in designing, developing, and deploying web applications. My goal is to not only meet but exceed the evolving digital needs of Hunter College, ensuring that the institution remains at the forefront of technological advancement.

Enclosed is my resume, providing a comprehensive overview of my skills and experiences in a university setting. I would welcome the opportunity to discuss in more detail how my qualifications align with the goals of Hunter College and how my passion for fostering technological growth can contribute to the success of your web initiatives.

Sincerely,

Cesar Granda
